The Day We Celebrate.

How the Fourth of July Was Observed.

WASHINGTON AND ELSEWHERE.

A Profusion of Flags and Bunting. Reading of the Declaration of Independence, and the Usual Noise of the Exploding Firecracker—Accidents of the Day.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The Fourth of July was celebrated here yesterday in the usual old-fashioned way. The department buildings and public offices were all closed, and business in the city was quite generally suspended. Flags and bunting floated in profusion about town, and the small boy and firecracker kept things lively and noisy from daylight till long after dark. The Potomac river steamers and outgoing trains took thousands of people out of town for a day's recreation.

There was no public celebration. The Oldest Inhabitants' association observed its time-honored custom of a sembling and listening to the reading of the Declaration of independence and a patriotic oration. The capitol was deserted, many congressmen having gone out of town, and there was probably not half a dozen in the building at any time engaged in committee work.

Yesterday, for the first time, the National colors floated in honor of independence day over the dome of the capitol. Flags are hoisted over the senate and house wings of the capitol only when congress is in actual session, and as congress is rarely in session on the Fourth, the colors have seldom been seen floating on this day, and then only as an indication that either house was in session. As a result, however, of preparations by Architect Clark, four immense flags floated gracefully yesterday—north, south, east and west of the Goddess of Liberty on the top of the dome of the great building.

Boston's Observance of the Day.

BOSTON, Mass., July 5.—There were elaborate celebrations of the National holiday here in the shape of countless picnics, games, entertainments, etc. Band concerts and fireworks were furnished by the city. Mayor Hart presided at the public meeting in Boston theatre, where an oration was delivered by Hon. Albert D. Pillsbury; Rev. M. J. Savage offered prayer, and Master L. T. Damon read the Declaration of Independence. There was a large audience.

John H. Leavett, of Newton, won the mile and a quarter swimming race on the Charles river. Time, 13:20. Mr. McClusky, of Lowell, was second.

In the professional scull race of three miles, Teemer won in 21:15. Ten Eyck second, John Joyce third, John T. McKay fourth.

The four-oared working boat race, professional, three miles, was won by Teemer's crew, comprising Teemer, McKay, D. F. and John Breen, in 19:07. Ten Eyck's crew (Ten Eyck, Joyce, W. F. Cooley and John Casey) second in 20:04.

The Army of the Potomac.

PORTLAND, Me., July 5.—The city of Portland gave a celebration yesterday in honor of the Army of the Potomac. There was a grand military and civic parade, fire works, salutes from the naval vessels in the harbor, and a firemen's parade, to which various other cities contributed. Fully 10,000 strangers were in town, and the streets were crowded. The parade was reviewed at Lincoln park by Gen. Sherman, Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, Gen. Devens, Gen. Porter, Gen. Collins, Admiral Gherardi, Gen. Butler and others. After the parade Gen. Butler and party were driven to the residence of George A. Thomas, where they were entertained.

After the parade there was a clam-bake at Little Chebeague, about 800 people, including the leading members of the Army of the Potomac society and many prominent citizens of Portland. Congressman Boutelle, Gen. King and others spoke. The party returned to the city in time to witness the fireworks display in the evening.

Fell from a Balloon.

BEARDSTOWN, Ill., July 5.—At the Fourth celebration here yesterday, S. H. Black, a young man, residing at Quincy, Ill., attempted to make a balloon ascension and parachute leap. When the balloon was at a great height the canvass of the parachute was seen to be in flames, and soon after the man was dashed to the ground. He was terribly bruised.

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—Mrs. Catherine McMahon was shot in the head last night while sitting on the doorstep of her residence, 2929 Diamond street, and will probably die. It is supposed that the shot was fired by some Fourth of July celebrator, and that the wounding of Mrs. McMahon was accidental.

The Day Abroad.

LONDON, July 5.—The anniversary of American independence was celebrated by Americans in London with the usual enthusiasm. Mr. W. H. White, first secretary of the United States legation, entertained a number of American guests at dinner, where the customary patriotic toasts and speeches were indulged in, and in many other ways the prominent Americans residing or sojourning here especially observed the day.

Col. Gouraud's "Edison house," in the West End, was literally covered with American and English flags, and the stars and stripes flew from many other houses in various parts of the city from sunrise until sunset. The feature of Col. Gouraud's celebration of the day was a phonographic reception, at which there were a large number of guests, mostly Americans. The program consisted of phonographic recitations, including the Declaration of Independence, messages from President Harrison, Gen. Sherman, Postmaster General Wainwright, Senator Evarts and others, and musical selections comprising the National airs of America.

Dispatches from Paris, Berlin and Vienna state that the day was observed at the respective American legations in the usual manner.

Banquet in Berlin.

BERLIN, July 5.—The American rifleman visiting here gave a banquet at the Kaiserhof hotel yesterday evening in honor of the anniversary of American independence. President Weber occupied the chair. Among the guests were Minister Phelps and his wife, Walter Damsch and his wife, John Jay Knox and several other prominent Americans and many German rifleman. Minister Phelps delivered a speech in which he glorified America and lauded President Harrison, who, he said, saw the full sweep of his country's prosperity and was neither dazzled nor shaken up but kept his poise as rugged and firm as Washington.

Burning of a Steamer.

Three Firemen Meet Instant Death.

FOUR OTHERS BADLY INJURED.

The Two-Thousand-Ton Steamer Iron King and Part of the Columbus and Hocking Coal Company's Docks at Minneapolis Destroyed—Names of the Killed and Injured Firemen.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 5.—A special from Ashland, Wis., to The Tribune says: Three firemen met death yesterday in the burning of the 2,000-ton steamer Iron King and a portion of the Columbus and Hocking Coal company's dock. Four others were injured, one probably fatally.

The Dead are:

George Tanton, a merchant tailor and secretary of the city fire department, who leaves a young wife and two pretty babies.

Elias Boucheltz leaves a widow and five young children.

Jack Prothers cannot live but a few hours. He, too, is married.

An unknown man jumped thirty-five feet down into a sea of flame and was cremated in sight of 500 people, who were powerless to help him.

J. J. Moore may die.

The fire started on the Iron King while discharging coal. All that boat's upper works and machinery were destroyed. Half a dozen firemen were holding a stream on the burning boat from a place on top of the coal dock. The flames leaped from the boat to an immense mass of blacksmith's coal directly under the firemen, and a terrific explosion of coal gas followed. The men blinded by flames ran through it like sheep and jumped all in a heap to the dock forty feet below. The money loss is about $150,000 and the coal dock is still burning.

QUADRUPLE DROWNING.

Four Lives Lost by the Upsetting of a Flat Boat.

PITTSBURGH, July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, Eliza Thompson, 2 years old, and Baby Thompson, an infant; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, their little daughter Priscilla and Robert Smith, 15 years of age, were all out rowing in a small flat boat on the Youghiogheny river, near McKeesport, yesterday afternoon. The boat upset from their weight, throwing all the occupants in the river.

Thompson swam to shore with his wife and baby. He then returned to save his 2-year-old daughter, Eliza, but in this last attempt both were drowned.

Richard Smith saved his wife, but drowned with his daughter Priscilla, while trying to reach shore.

Robert Smith, the 15-year-old boy, swam to shore.

The four bodies were recovered.

Life Prisoner Pardoned.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 5.—Henry Butler, a negro, who was serving a life sentence in the penitentiary, was the recipient of a pardon from the governor yesterday on account of his exemplary behavior as a prisoner. He had been in the penitentiary a little over fifteen years, and upon investigation the rather startling fact that in the sixty years of the prison's existence no convict ever lived out so long a sentence. It is a rare thing to find a convict who has lived even ten years in the Missouri penitentiary. Poor sanitary regulations of the institution is the cause.

New York Society of Cincinnati.

NEW YORK, July 5.—At the annual meeting of the New York State Society of the Cincinnati, held yesterday at Delmonico's, Hamilton Elsh was re-elected president. Gen. John Cochrane was elected vice president in place of Alex. Hamilton, deceased. Gen. Cochrane moved that ex-President Hayes be made an honorary member by suspension of the rules. There was some opposition to the motion, and it was decided, inasmuch as Mr. Hayes is an honorary member of the Pennsylvania State society, to withdraw the motion. A banquet followed the meeting.

Married in a Balloon.

LOWELL, Mass., July 5.—Charles G. Stowell and Miss Lottie E. Anderson were married yesterday up in a balloon, 10,000 people at the fair grounds witnessing the event. Rev. W. W. Downs, of Boston, performed the ceremony. The balloon, which was in charge of Professor J. K. Allen, sailed away to the north after rising, and up to a late hour its landing had not been reported.

HALF-STARVED AND SICK.

Two Hundred Italian Laborers Landed in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, July 5.—After ten days' detention at the Mississippi quarantine station, the steamship Professor Morse arrived here yesterday with 250 half-starved and sick laborers, mostly Italians, who had been working on the Oteri plantation, in Honduras, since April last with but little food and inadequate shelter. Dr. Olphant, president of the board of health, with Drs. Gzarnowski and Bickman, two experts, boarded the Morse and made a close examination of passengers and crew and made a report to the board of health as to the condition of the men.

The report says: We learn from a statement of Dr. Otto, who came aboard the vessel June 19, that he found 163 passengers sick out of 262, exclusive of a crew of twenty-six. The passengers were suffering from dropsy, dysentery, malaria and bilious fever. The crew were all well. When Dr. Otto took charge of these people a death had occurred at Utilia, on board of the steamship Oteri, from whence these passengers were transferred to the Professor Morse. Four deaths occurred at the lazarette of the quarantine station—two of dysentery and two of malarial fever. This morning, at the time of landing, a death occurred, undoubtedly also a case of malarial fever. The report says there are three cases of malarial fever of a severe type on board this morning. The sickness of the passengers is undoubtedly due to their being unaccustomed in the locality where they had been employed.

The report concludes: From what we learn of the history of these cases and our own observation on board we have no hesitation whatever in declaring that those cases are all of malarial fever of a severe type, and not a case of contagious disease is now or was at any time during the trip developed aboard, either among passengers or crew.

More French Outrages.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., July 5.—Trustworthy news has reached here of further French outrages at Port-a-Port on June 23. The facts were telegraphed to-day by Mr. Morrison, M. Baud's lawyer. He states that two French fishing vessels were there and forty Newfoundlanders seining. The captain of a French war ship came, seized and carried away one seine, destroyed another and drove all the Newfoundland vessels out of the harbor. The French fishermen cut the lobster trawls and robbed the traps. The indignation of the Newfoundlanders is great.

A Saloonkeeper Shoots His Wife.

COLUMBUS, Ind., July 5.—At the Western hotel yesterday evening John F. Pettit, a son of ex-Mayor Pettit, and a prominent saloonkeeper, shot and killed his wife. Two weeks ago she left him and went to the hotel, and was serving as a waiter. Last night Pettit walked into the dining room, drew a revolver and shot five bullets in her head and breast. She died almost instantly. Pettit is in jail, and there is talk of lynching him.

Progressive Angling.

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Frazee was the scene of a joyous assemblage of young ladies and gentlemen on Thursday evening. The occasion was a "progressive angling party," given by Miss Jennie Frazee, the daughter of the house, in honor of her visiting friend, Miss Anne Milward, of Lexington. The feature of the amusement was the test as to which ones of the happy crowd were the best anglers. A number of artificial fish, each with a ring attached to its back, were placed on tables. Then each guest was provided with a pole, line and hook. Miss Milward proved to be the most expert angler in the party, and landed the little fishes in a rapid manner. She carried off the honors of the evening. Mr. C. O. McDougle was a close second. The "booby prize" fell to Miss Sallie Burgess. The contest was very exciting throughout, and was highly enjoyed by the guests.

At 11 o'clock, tempting and delightful refreshments were served, after which Miss Mayme Current and the young hostess favored the party with some choice selections on the piano. The evening was a most enjoyable one. The fair hostess by her gracious welcome to each guest, assisted by the winning manners of Miss Milward, made every one feel that it was "good to be there." Those present were: Miss Anne Milward, Lexington; Misses Mayme Current, Mayme Hocker, Mamie Perrie, Fannie Frazee, Harriet Johnson, Sallie Burgess; Messrs. S. L. Wood, Harry B. Owens, Earley Worick, Stanley Watson, C. O. McDougle, Roe Stockton.

THE FAST FLYER

Badly Wrecked at Russell—Luckily Only Two People Seriously Hurt.

The C. & O.'s westbound F. F. V. collided with a work train yesterday afternoon at Russell and was pretty badly wrecked.

The F. F. V. was an hour behind time. The other train had switched off on the siding at Russell, but for some reason or other several cars loaded with cinders were left on the main track.

The engineer of the westbound train discovered the danger and made every effort to prevent the collision by reversing and putting on brakes. The speed of the "Flyer" was considerably checked before it crashed into the cars.

Cinders were scattered in every direction. One side of three of the coaches was badly damaged and the coaches were overturned.

The passengers and crew were all terribly shaken up, but luckily only two people were seriously hurt. A negro from Greenup had one leg broken, and a gentleman from Huntington received injuries to his back. The engineer and fireman jumped and escaped unhurt.

Mr. John C. Everett was on the train, returning from the Ashland fair. He was standing in the vestibule between two of the rear coaches when the collision occurred. He escaped uninjured.

As soon as the Russell accommodation reached the scene last night, the passengers were transferred to it and sent through to Cincinnati. It passed here at 2 o'clock this morning.

The Field Day.

About fifteen hundred people attended the "field day" festivities at the fair grounds yesterday. The country folks were busy with their crops and but few of them turned out to celebrate the Fourth.

In the forenoon the Olympics, of Cincinnati, got away with the Maysville Reds in the game of ball, the score standing six to one. The visitors didn't fare so well in the afternoon, a five-inning game resulting 2 to 2. The games were pronounced two of the best ever played here.

There were three bicycle races. The first, a one-eighth mile dash, was won by Joe Evans; Will Gunn second. The second was won by Elias Pearce. It was a quarter-mile dash, and Charlie Egnew passed under the wire second. In the mile dash, Elias Pearce got there again, Charlie Vicroy coming in second. The sack race was won by Bill Hester, and the potato race by R. Hafler. The two trotting races were not finished.

Jailed for Attempted Rape.

Clarence Wolfe, colored, about sixteen years old, was lodged in jail yesterday on a charge of attempting to rape Anna Woolaver.

The victim of the lustful villain's brutal attack is not yet twelve years of age. She is the daughter of a German farmer, who lives on Lee's Creek, between Tuckahoe and Minerva.

The particulars of the crime will be brought out at the examining trial, which is set for next Monday. The attack was made early this week. The villain, when foiled in his attempt, escaped to the woods, and succeeded in eluding the officers until Thursday night, when he was captured by Deputy Sheriff Perrine.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Through the Rapids.

Soules, the Swimmer, Makes the Attempt.

BUT STOPS BEFORE THE FALLS.

He Crawls on the Shore Just in Time to Save Himself From Certain Death. Soules the Second Man to Go Through the Falls.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 5.—A special from Niagara Falls, N. Y., to The Express says: Soules, the swimmer, at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, dipped his feet and arms in the water, and waving a good-by to the people on the bridge, slid off into the rapids. At the point where Soules reached the signal "Go" the water is very swift, but forms a series of eddies, and instead of going out toward the center, has a tendency to bring objects toward the shore. It could be seen that Soules was making strenuous efforts to get out into the middle of the river without making much headway, and was still going down.

As he passed under the railroad suspension bridge he was treading water with his body well out. Just below the bridge he struck some big breakers and was out of sight for an instant. As he came in sight he was within a foot of a large rock, against which he was dashed, badly bruising and cutting his left knee and hurting his foot, but he passed over all right and could be seen swimming a good stroke. His effort to keep away from rocks had used up a good deal of strength, and, finding that he could not get out into the river, he swam to shore, and was helped out on the rocks, having been in the water about five minutes. He expressed a willingness to start out again, but it was evident that he had had all he wanted, for one day at least, and it required but little persuasion to induce him to give it up. Although his trip was short it was a dangerous one, Soules being the second swimmer to successfully swim that part of the rapids.

Capt. Webb went through with only swimming trunks, and lost his life. Kendall, the most powerful of the three, went through with a life preserver, but was taken out exhausted.

From Soules' condition when taken out, the chances are had he gone the full distance he would have been taken out at the whirlpool a corpse. Soules came here from North Muskegon, Mich., where he claims to have been employed as a stationary engineer. He claims to have been interested in several swimming matches in the Detroit river.

SWALLOWED HIS TEETH.

After Suffering for Eight Years Death Comes to His Relief.

WOOSTER, O., July 5.—Richard Baughman, the Dalton man, who eight years ago accidentally swallowed a plate containing four false teeth, and which have remained in his stomach ever since, died yesterday. Since the unfortunate occurrence he has only been able to take solid food with the greatest effort, and for the last four years has subsisted entirely on liquids.

From a strong and hearty man he grew to be a walking skeleton. Many eminent physicians treated him, and tried to devise some means by which the plate could be removed successfully. Others worked in vain to compound a mixture that would dissolve the substance and not destroy life. A post-mortem examination, at his own request, will be held.

Nationalists Organizing.

COLUMBUS, O., July 5.—The Nationalist clubs of Ohio held their first state conference in this city to lay definite plans for concert of action for the promotion of Nationalism, "as laid down in the declarations of principles by Boston Club, No. 1." FIREBUG ARRESTED.

A Five-Year-Old Boy That Wanted to See the Horses Run.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 5.—For two or three weeks the police have been puzzled by incendiary fires in the southern part of the city. Wednesday Antioch church was mysteriously fired and a little girl in the vicinity said that she saw a 5-year-old boy, Johnny Hampden, running from the structure just as the blaze burst.

Investigation satisfied the police that the lad was the troublesome firebug and he was arrested and brought to the mayor's office yesterday on a warrant charging him with the crime. Just before the trial he confessed to setting the church on fire and said that he had also fired the Excelsior works and Frick's livery stable, both of which were burned a short time ago, and several stables in the neighborhood. The only reason that he gave for thus destroying the property was that he "wanted to see the fire department horses run." The mayor held him over to the criminal court.

A CHEEKY SWINDLER.

He Steals a Liveryman's Horse and Buggy, Also Fifty Dollars Borrowed Money.

MECHANICSBURG, O., July 5.—A man representing himself as L. M. Auer, of New York, a wealthy cattle buyer, registered at the Murray house last Saturday and remained here up to yesterday, at which time he procured a horse and buggy of C. L. Burnham, a liveryman here, for the purpose of going into the country to purchase cattle, at the same time requesting the loan of $50 with which to make the purchase good, telling Mr. Burnham that his partner would be here in a few days with funds to meet all bills.

Mr. Burnham, thinking him all right, gave him the money, and the man not returning when he agreed to, Mr. Burnham became suspicious and telephoned different points, finally locating his horse and buggy in Urbana, O., where the party had put up, but the individual could not be found.

A Big Strike Settled.

LONDON, July 6.—The gas strike at Leeds has been settled. The committee of the strikers and the gas company met again yesterday, when the representatives of the strikers made another presentation of the demands of the men. This was met by a proposition of a compromise, which, after some discussion and amendment, was accepted by the strikers. By the terms of the settlement the strikers receive concessions covering the greater part of their original demands, and the company agrees to send the blacklegs back to their homes. The strikers are elated over their victory.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Hester Latty, a middle aged tailor, was stabbed and killed yesterday by her husband, Martin Latty, a drunken and worthless little fellow whom she had supported from her earnings while he loafed around the apartments at 220 Christie street, occasionally sweeping the floor or washing the dishes while his wife worked at her trade. The stabbing was done while Latty was drunk. Latty was arrested. He claims that his wife stabbed herself.

A Scheme of the Illinois Central.

FORT DODGE, Iowa, July 5.—Every employe of the Illinois Central road has received a circular letter from President Fish, urging all employes to invest their earnings in Illinois Central stock. He suggests that each one notify the company how much he wishes to invest each year, and a certificate of stock will be issued for it. The amount will be deducted from the men's pay in monthly installments. The idea is to get the men to take a personal interest in the earnings.

Claims It Was an Accident.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Dave Dillon, a boss truckman, living at No. 54 Henry street, was shot and killed last night by Edward Citterton, a driver, at No. 238 Elizabeth street. Citterton claims that his revolver was discharged accidentally, while he was defending his brother Frank, who had been attacked by Dillon in a drunken brawl. Dillon had a reputation in the neighborhood as a fighter. Citterton gave himself up to the police.
